

Call for National Board Members

March 28, 2007

Dear ADPSR Members, Supporters, and Friends,

ADPSR will be electing new National Board members and officers at our summer meeting in Louisiana on June 2, and we are looking for good candidates. Are you, or do you know someone who is:

- an architect / designer / or planner (or deeply interested in these fields)
- passionate about peace, social justice, the environment, and/or socially responsible development
- hoping to make social change by working with an established non-profit organization
- willing to volunteer at least 6 hours/month

Then you would be a great ADPSR Board member!

The National Board is responsible for supporting initiatives including New Village Press and the Prison Design Boycott; selecting the annual Lewis Mumford award winners; speaking for the organization on a range of social issues; developing new chapters; and administrating the organization's business. More board members are needed to pursue these and other projects, and to keep the board vital with new ideas and initiatives.

Anyone who is interested to serve on the National Board of Directors please reply to president@adpsr.org. Nominations should be presented by May 1. Include:

- Your Name
- Occupation
- Phone, Email & Postal address
- A current resume or bio
- A one page statement of your interest in ADPSR, what you would like to contribute, and any relevant experience

Board members and officers are elected by the current Board. Students, women, people of color, and members of minority groups are encouraged to apply!

 Please forward this message *****

Architects/Designers/Planners for Social Responsibility is a national non-profit founded in 1982 dedicated to the involvement of architects, designers, and planners in issues of peace and social justice.

For more information see www.adpsr.org